Communication skills

I am characterized by team spirit and communication skills with people from all social or cultural backgrounds.

I have literary skills, and I am the winner of the anniversary inter-county contest Mircea Eliade (2002)

As a representative of Turkey, I have participated in the BISMUN Conference, with a very demanding work that spread over several days, I consider this experience to be a very useful one and from which I have learned many new things about international diplomacy.

I also had a great chance to participate in an international project funded by the European Commission, organized in the Netherlands for 10 days at international roundtables. with the aim of raising awareness of the impact of humanity on the environment. The project was called Web of Life and was organized in Maasbree during November 22 - December 2, 2013, with 18 participants coming from 4 countries. .

At the beginning of 2014, between January 19 and 23, I took part in the seminar funded by the European Commission " E.U. citizens with no border "organized in Athens-Greece. The project aimed at creating a website to facilitate the mobility of citizens within the European Union, and the dissemination of policies related to mobility in the European Union. Not less than 80 participants from 14 Member States of the European Union participated in this project. The end of the project resulted in the drafting of a resolution that was sent for presentation to the European Parliament.

Between March 16-22, 2014, I was nominated the leader of the Romanian group to represent Romania in the European Parliament simulations financed by the European Commission and organized in the town of Jelgava-Latvia. The project covered 6 countries with 76 members who actually took part in the works. As a group leader, we have watched the good work throughout the project, and at the end we also participated in the drafting of the resolution to be presented to the European Parliament.

In the beginning of May, between 05-09, I had the opportunity to attend a training seminar in Valencia, Spain. The Seminar brought on the agenda topics such as migration and youth unemployment. The project gathered participants from the UK, Italy, Spain, Bulgaria, France and Poland.

Excellent communication skills, dynamic, sociable, easily adaptable
